RELIGIOUS.

Rev. Alex O. Heasley, rector of the Episcopal church in Versailles has received a call to a parish at Lucerne, Switzerland.

The question of a single term for President, and the extension of the term from four to six years is beginning to excite discussion. The argument is that under the present system a President scarcely gets his seat warm before he is laying plans to succeed himself, and that with the ambition for a second term removed, better service would be secured and there would be a lessening of political excitement. The argument is not without merit.

ANTISEPTALINE is for sale by all druggists.

The Halbard.

Halbard is the arms carry'd by the sergeants of foot and dragoons; the head of the halbard ought to be a foot or 15 inches long; one end ought to be hollow to receive the staff, but the other broad, ribb'd in the middle, edg'd on both sides and drawing to a point, like the point of a two edged sword. On one side of the head is likewise fixed a piece in form of a half moon or star, and on the other a broad point of four inches long, crooked a little, which is very commodious for drawing fascines, gabions or whatever obstacle happen in the way. The staff of the halbard is about five feet long and an inch and half diameter, made of ash or other hard wood.

Halbards are very useful in determining the ground betwixt the ranks, and for dressing the ranks and files of a battalion, and likewise for enlisting the soldiers.—Gentleman's Directory, 1765.

OBITUARY.

"The Rev. Peter Elkanah Kavanaugh, who died recently in Henry Co. was a son of the Rev. W. B. Kavanaugh, deceased. There were ten sons who wore the same size hat and boots, and their father used to tell how, by buying for all at the same time, he got wholesale prices. They were nephews of Kentucky's famous and eloquent Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh, of the M. E. Church, South, who got his start in life as a "printer's devil" in a Paris printing office. Their grand-mother was the wife of the eccentric Dr. Thomas Hinde, of Newport, who being an infidel at that time, applied a strong mustard-plaster to his wife when she professed conversion and joined the church. The doctor afterward embraced Christianity, and became a valued church member. The Hinde and their descendants—the Kavanaughs, Poynters and others—are conspicuous figures in the history of the Methodist Church in Kentucky."

IT IS DECLARED OFF.

The Championship Fight Between Jas. Jeffries and Gus Ruhlin.

The Committee Having It in Charge Will Ask the Mayor to Withdraw the Permit.

Cincinnati, Jan. 10.—The fight for the championship of the world between James J. Jeffries, champion heavy weight pugilist, and Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, scheduled to take place at the Saengerfest hall on February 15, will not take place.

This was settled Wednesday at a conference of the sub-committee of the Saengerfest directors. It was agreed by the sub-committee not to ask Mayor Fleischmann to issue a permit for the fight. As the mayor promised to issue the permit at the request of the committee, he can do but one thing—grant the latest request.

After much deliberation the committee decided that the mayor had exceeded his authority in agreeing to issue the permit.

First—That everything done in the matter up to the present time would demonstrate that the affair would be a prize fight and not a sparring exhibition, as contemplated by the law, and, therefore, a felony under the laws of Ohio, which would implicate everybody connected with it.

Second—That even if the affair was a sparring exhibition, as contemplated by the laws of the state, the Saengerfest athletic club, as organized, would not come legally within the provision and intention of the statutes.

Third—That the legal formalities in organizing a corporation of this kind, one for profit, as it would undoubtedly be, have not been done in compliance with the laws of the state.

THE BOSSCHETER MURDER.

Selecting Jurors for the Cases of McAllister, Death, Campbell and Kerr at Paterson, N. J.

New York, Jan. 10.—The first stage of the Bosscheter murder trial occurred shortly after noon Wednesday at Paterson, N. J., when Walter McAllister, William Death, Andrew Campbell and G. J. Kerr were brought into court to witness the drawing of the jury panels which will consider their cases.

The Kerr panel was drawn first. The McAllister jury, which will try Death and Campbell as well as McAllister, will be selected from a different panel of the 48. These panels now go to the prosecutor and counsel for the defense. Each will strike out 12 jurors, leaving 24 from among the 12 trial jurors who must be chosen. Judge Dixon notified the prisoners to be ready for trial Monday.

LEGATION QUARTERS.

The State Department Has Under Consideration the Rebuilding of Those Damaged at Peking.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The state department has had under consideration for some time the question of rebuilding the United States legation quarters at Peking, which were badly damaged and otherwise made unserviceable during the siege, but no exact plan of action has been determined upon, pending advice from Mr. Conger as to just what shall be done. Where the legation shall be located and the general dimensions and character of the establishment will depend to a large extent upon the outcome of the present peace negotiations, as they include questions affecting the size and permanency of the legation quarters and guards.

THE PRUSSIAN MONARCHY.

The Bicentenary Will Be Celebrated on January 18 With Special Solemn Services.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—The bicentenary of the Prussian monarchy, which will be celebrated January 18, will be marked by a special solemn service, ordered by Emperor William in the garrison church. There will be also a special service in the castle chapel after which a battery in the Lustgarten will fire 101 guns.

Among the foreign visitors expected are Prince Vladimir, of Russia, and Crown Prince Franz Ferdinand, of Austria. An illumination of the public buildings has been ordered.

Another Poolroom Burned.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Frank McWhorter's big poolroom at Rynevill, Ill., 20 miles from Chicago, is in ashes. McWhorter says a rival set fire to the place. Two watchmen who guarded the place say they saw the incendiary and will be able to identify him. This is the seventh poolroom that has been burned under suspicious circumstances in the vicinity of Chicago.

YELLOW FEVER GERMS.

It Has Been Proved Conclusively That the Mosquito Is Responsible For the Spread of the Disease.

Havana, Jan. 10.—The American commission, under the superintendency of Dr. Reed, which has been making examinations at Quemados as to the propagation of yellow fever germs by the mosquito has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show beyond a doubt that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that the mosquitoes alone are responsible for the spread of the disease. In the course of the commission's investigations six non-immune persons were infected direct by the bite of the mosquitoes which had previously bitten yellow fever patients, and five of these developed yellow fever.

The last experiment made proved conclusively, Dr. Reed contends, the theory of propagation by mosquitoes.

MRS. NATION'S CASE.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Started to Procure Her Release From the Wichita Jail.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 10.—Habeas corpus proceedings were started in the supreme court here Wednesday to secure the release of Mrs. Carrie Nation from the Wichita jail, where she is confined for attempting to demolish a Wichita saloon. The petition was filed in behalf of David Nation, and claims that the saloon keepers have no rights under the law, and that, therefore, Mrs. Nation can not be held for trying to destroy an illegal traffic. The claim is made that she is confined in the Wichita jail by a bogus smallpox quarantine, after she had offered good and sufficient bond for her release. The supreme court will hear the case Friday.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

One of the Worst of the Season, Causing Much Damage to Telegraph and Telephone Wires.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—One of the worst storms of the year struck Chicago Wednesday afternoon and raged until midnight, causing much damage to telegraph and telephone wires and crippling the street car service badly. The storm began with a light fall of snow, which increased in volume throughout the afternoon, while the wind rose with it, blowing at times over 40 miles an hour. At 6 o'clock three inches of snow had fallen, and in places was drifted badly, causing much delay in handling of the street cars. Shortly after 6 the snow turned to rain and the streets became almost impassable for pedestrians. The rain fell heavily until midnight.

The full committee has tentatively agreed to increase the enlisted force of the navy 3,000. The secretary of the navy recommended an increase of 5,000 men. A FORTRESS STORMED.

Was the Headquarters of Newly Organized Bands of Boxers.

The Position of the Chinese Court at Sian Fu Is Growing More Untenable and It May Soon Return to Peking.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Count von Waldersee:

"Peking, Jan. 8.—The fortress of Ho Pu, which was stormed January 3, was the headquarters of newly organized bands of 'Boxers.' Over 1,000 had terrorized the district, and they were planning to march on Yen King and Chau Ping."

Writing from Peking under date of January 6, Count von Waldersee says: "Col. Pavel's column is marching to Tai Ngan Fu, on the Pei Ho, to cooperate with Col. Madai's column from Yen King, 72 kilometers northwest of Peking."

"Col. Pavel, after extremely severe marches over bypaths and through high mountains, stormed the fortifications January 3. These were defended by ten guns and from 600 to 1,000 men. Having protected the mines, the column is returning in extended order through Yen King."

London, Jan. 10.—"Should no fresh developments render his presence in China necessary," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily News, "Count von Waldersee will return to Europe about the end of March."

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Germany is not yet willing to define her position with reference to Secretary Hay's proposal to transfer the Peking negotiations to Washington, according to a statement made by a high foreign office official, because an exchange of views between the cabinet on the subject is now proceeding. The German foreign office, however, believes Mr. Conger's view of the attitude of the empress dowager is correct and that the position of the Chinese court at Sian Fu is growing more and more untenable, rendering it probable that the powers will soon succeed in persuading the imperial personages to return to Peking.

CULTIVATION OF TEA.

Northern Capitalists Will Go Into the Business in South Carolina on a Large Scale.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 10.—The successful cultivation of tea at the Pinehurst farms, Summerville, near this city, has attracted northern capitalists, who will go into the business on a large scale and expect to raise 300,000 pounds annually for the American market. Col. A. C. Tyler and Maj. R. D. Trimble, of New London, Ct., and Baron J. A. Von Brunig, formerly of the German legation at Washington, have bought 4,000 acres of pine land along the line of the Charleston & Savannah railroad for tea raising.

THE FLORIDA LYNCHING.

Special Term of the Circuit Court Convened and the Matter Will Be Investigated.

Madison, Fla., Jan. 10.—An investigation is being made into the lynching of two Negroes here last week, a special term of the circuit court having been convened. Judge White instructed the grand jury to make a diligent investigation of the lynching and, if the names of the lynchers can be ascertained, to indict them for murder. In his charge the judge declared that the perpetrators of the lynching were guilty of murder in the eyes of the law, and that the grand jury should go to the bottom of the crime.

BATTLE SHIP WISCONSIN.

Capt. Reiter Opposes Putting the Vessel in Commission February 1, Which Falls on Friday.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Capt. Reiter, of the navy, who is supervising work on the new battle ship Wisconsin, at San Francisco, has recommended that the plan of putting the ship in commission on the 1st prox. be reconsidered. When that plan was arranged the fact was overlooked that February 1 falls on Friday. Old salts say that there is no record of a warship being put into active service on that so-called unlucky day of the week.

INSURGENT CAMPS.

Many of Them in Various Districts of Luzon and Laroe Captured—The Federal Party.

Manila, Jan. 9.—Several insurgent camps have been captured and destroyed recently in various districts of Luzon and Laroe. One camp was captured in the mountains of Marinduque. A scouting party of the 46th regiment captured a score of ladrones near Silang.

Arrests of suspected insurgents continue numerously in Manila and its vicinity.

Paterno and other influential independent radicals are seeking to develop the two sections of the federal party. Paterno contends that, while the declared principles of the party will do for the present, eventually the Filipinos will seek fuller independence. Although he will not admit believing American sovereignty is desirable, he says he wants the relations between the Philippines and the United States to be similar to those of Australia and Canada with Great Britain.

THE PRESIDENT ILL.

Confined to His Room By a Well-Defined Case of Grip—Secretary Hay Also Sick.

Washington, Jan. 9.—At 5 o'clock Tuesday evening Secretary Cortelyou said concerning the president's illness: "The president's cold has developed into a well-defined case of grip. The physician states that there are no complications and that everything is progressing favorably. The disease must run its regular course, and the president, therefore, is not likely to be out for some time."

Secretary Hay was still ailing Tuesday with the cold which has affected him of late, and remained away from the state department. The secretary was about the house Monday and Tuesday, and no apprehension is felt over the attack, although it has proved disagreeable and unusually prolonged.

POWDER EXPLOSION.

By a Collision of a Freight Train and an Engine a Car Load of the Explosive Let Go.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 9.—By a collision of a freight train and an empty engine on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Laurel run, late Tuesday afternoon, a car full of black powder exploded with such force that the report was heard a distance of 20 miles. The crew of the empty engine, seeing that a collision was unavoidable, jumped and saved their lives.

Peter Strome, the conductor of the freight train, "cut" a car loaded with dynamite, which was coupled to the powder car, and gave the engineer the signal to go ahead. The dynamite was thus moved to a place of safety before the explosion occurred.

VESSEL BURNED.

Fire Destroyed an Excursion Steamboat at Brooklyn—The Flames Spread to the Dock.

New York, Jan. 9.—Fire destroyed the harbor excursion steamboat Idlewild, which was tied up for the winter at Baird's dock, Erie basin, Brooklyn, early Wednesday morning. The flames spread to the dock, which is still afire. For a time they threatened the Baird warehouse, a four-story building filled with jute, grain, nitrate of soda, sugar and flour, but the firemen saved the structure. The fire was practically under control at 2:30 o'clock. The loss can not be determined at present.

Dentist Commits Suicide.

Denver, Col., Jan. 9.—Robert Lawrence, a young dentist, shot himself in the head Tuesday while lying on a couch beside his wife. Death resulted instantly. The doctor's suicide is attributed to despondency over the condition of his wife. Mrs. Lawrence had enjoyed good health previous to being vaccinated on the thigh about a year ago. The vaccine virus, it is said, produced atrophy, and paralysis followed.

To Enlarge the Military Academy.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Estimates of appropriations aggregating $2,418,370 for enlarging the present plant of the West Point Military academy have been sent to the house of representatives by the secretary of war. PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, Ga., and Its Pastor and Elder.

THE day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true to-day of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

A dignified representative of the Presbyterian church in the person of Rev. E. G. Smith does not hesitate to state publicly that he has used Peruna in his family and found it cured when other remedies failed. In this statement the Rev. Smith is supported by an elder in his church.

Rev. E. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"Having used Peruna in my family for some time it gives me pleasure to testify to its true worth. My little boy seven years of age had been suffering for some time with catarrh of the lower bowels. Other remedies had failed, but after taking two bottles of Peruna the trouble almost entirely disappeared. For this special malady I consider it well nigh a specific. As a tonic for weak and worn out people it has few or no equals."—Rev. E. G. Smith.

Mr. M. J. Rossman, a prominent merchant of Greensboro, Ga., and an elder in the Presbyterian church of that place, has used Peruna, and in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, writes as follows:

"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys and tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. Peruna was recommended to me by several friends, and after using a few bottles I am pleased to say that the long looked for relief was found and I am now enjoying better health than I have for years, and can heartily recommend Peruna to all similarly afflicted. It is certainly a grand medicine."—M. J. Rossman.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Insomnia Wrecks the Nerves.
Dr. Greene's NERVURA Makes Health.

INSOMNIA is a forerunner of nervous prostration; what organism is strong enough to stand up under the strain of sleepless nights? It is plain that nothing in the world can possibly take the place of restful sleep, yet many try to eke out an existence without this sustaining power. Their nerves are in such a state of tension that sleep is an impossibility, or at best is a series of hideous dreams. It is not strange that physical and mental weakness, amounting soon to complete prostration, follows inability to sleep. There is no let-up to the strain. Vital forces are drawn upon, confirmed invalidism results.

The recuperative power of natural sleep is wonderful. Complete physical and mental exhaustion gives place, after a few hours of quiet slumber, to a full renewal of energy. The fatigue of body and mind disappears entirely while all the muscles are strong and the nerves absolutely calm.

Sleep is the indication given by Nature as a guide to human plans to restore health. It shows that there are inherent in the wonderful human organism powers of recuperation which must have opportunity to assert themselves. Based on this clear demonstration, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy was constructed by Dr. Greene to help Nature combat the ills that attack men and women. What no amount of powerful drugs could possibly accomplish, can be successfully and promptly effected by healthy blood and nerves, the kind of blood which flows in strengthening flood to every portion of the body, the condition of nerves which permits awakened Nature to seize its opportunity to restore to perfect health.

Mrs. FLORENCE TAYLOR, of 4 Courtland Place, Bridgeport, Conn., writes:

"For four years I was troubled with nervous debility and hysteria in a most aggravated form. It caused sleeplessness and mental depression, and for months I was confined to my bed. My constitution wasted and I totally lost my appetite. I had many doctors, but they failed to give me any relief. I was advised to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I was in a terrible condition when I began its use, and almost immediately there was a wonderful change came over me. I regained my appetite, the dizziness in my head departed; it renewed my interest in life and made me feel, in fact, like another person. After taking six bottles I thankfully proclaimed myself strong and well. Those six bottles did for me what hundreds of dollars and numerous physicians failed to do."

Dr. Greene's Nervura Is the Remedy that Cures.

Full explanation of these matters given by Dr. Greene on request, without charge. Dr. Greene's address is 35 West 14th Street, New York City. Consultation with him either by call or letter is absolutely free.

ORPHAN ASYLUM FIRE.

Known That 27 Children Perished and Many Fatally Injured.

Two of the Women Attendants Are Among the Dead—The Property Loss Will Not Exceed the Sum of $20,000.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Fire broke out in the hospital section of the Rochester orphan asylum at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning in Hubbell Park, and the flames spread rapidly to other sections of the institution. It is known that 19 of the children perished and it is feared that many more victims may be reported later.

The fire was first discovered by two men passing the asylum. They instantly sent in an alarm and then turned their attention toward arousing the nurses and the children.

A terrific explosion was then heard and in a moment the entire hospital section was in flames. On the arrival of the fire apparatus a general alarm was sent in, calling out the entire department. The smoke began to pour out of every window in the main building and the screams and frantic cries of the children could be heard. The work of rescue began with a will. Children and nurses were carried from the building, all in an unconscious condition, some dead. Ambulances from the city, St. Mary's and Hahnemann hospitals were summoned and the victims were removed to the several institutions.

There were 109 children at the hospital and a corps of about 30 nurses and attendants. Two of the women attendants are among the dead.

The property loss will probably exceed $20,000.

Twenty-one persons are known to have perished, 25 were injured, some doubtless fatally.

Most of the inmates knew nothing about the fire until aroused by Young and Clark, though one woman stated that she heard an explosion before she smelled smoke.

The scenes about the building while the fire was at its height were heart hardening in the extreme. Crazed women were running about trying to find out whether certain little ones had been taken from the building in safety, while others were looking for their friends. All who were rescued had nothing on but their night clothing.

About 30 children were carried into the home of Herman Behn, a shoe merchant across the street on Hubbell Park, and as fast as the ambulances arrived the children were removed. Every few minutes a victim would be reported dead. Miss Comerieux, one of the attendants, was rescued from a third story window by a fireman. When part way down the ladder the fireman slipped and fell to the ground. Both were terribly injured, though they will recover.

At St. Mary's hospital eight are dead, the identity of none being known.

There are five dead in the Homeopathic hospital, the identity of none being known.

Several died in houses near the asylum. There are 15 children and one woman dead at the morgue.

The total number of fatalities known is 27.

Lillie Stone, aged eight years, is fearfully burned about the legs and body and will die. Miss Brad, the nurse of the hospital ward of the asylum, will probably die. Kate Cottrell and Blanche Atheson, the latter colored, are believed to be in a dying condition. Both had fearful falls and sustained frightful injuries. But one inmate is dying at the hospital, he being a little boy who was ill at the asylum. He is unable to tell his name.

John Carey, eight years old, is at the Hahnemann hospital. His lungs were filled with smoke and no hope is held out for his recovery.

THE HARTFORD.

Commander Hawley Has Received Orders to Resume His Training Cruise—Leaves La Guayra.

Washington, Jan. 8.—After having communicated to the state department relative to the condition of affairs in Venezuela, the navy department Monday afternoon sent orders to Commander Hawley, of the Hartford, authorizing him to leave La Guayra and resume his training cruise. The departure of the Hartford will leave only one vessel, the Scorpion, in Venezuelan waters, an indication of the belief of the state department that conditions there no longer threaten American interests.

BRANCHING OUT.

Carnegie Company Will Build the Largest Pipe and Tube Manufacturing Plant in the World.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 9.—In explanation of the extensive land purchases of the Carnegie Co. at Conneaut Harbor, O., President Charles M. Schwab Tuesday made clear the plans of the company with respect to these purchases. Mr. Schwab states that for over a year the Carnegie Co. has contemplated entering into lines of manufacture other than in which it has been engaged hitherto, and the first step in carrying out this purpose is to be taken at once by the establishment of the largest pipe and tube manufacturing plant in the world at Conneaut Harbor, O., which is the Lake Erie terminal of the Carnegie Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, 150 miles from Pittsburgh. The company has purchased 5,000 acres of land immediately east of Conneaut Harbor docks, and a large part of this vast tract will be utilized as a site for the tube works. The works will stretch over a mile of the lake front and will be the most extensive and complete of its kind in every branch ever built. The investment, exclusive of ground, will reach about $12,000,000,000.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

An Effort to Have Them Removed From Peking to a Capital of One of the Powers.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The negotiations which have been pending for some time relative to the removal from Peking some of the subjects of international negotiations, so that they could be taken up at Washington or at the capital of one of the other powers, have now advanced to a stage where there is promise of a satisfactory understanding among the powers on this move. The plan originated through a suggestion of Minister Conger, cabled about a week ago, to the effect that there was little prospect of securing united action on the subject of indemnity and of new commercial treaties with China. Mr. Conger suggested that better progress in the negotiations was likely to result if these two phases could be removed from Peking and taken up at some point entirely removed from local influences.

AFTER A RANSOM.

Son of N. H. Frazer, of Alabama, 15 Years Old, Kidnaped—The Kidnapers Demand $5,000.

Frazer, tax collector of Bullock county, has received a letter dated Memphis from men claiming to have kidnaped Frazer's 15-year-old son, Bass, in Atlanta, who demand $5,000 ransom. The letter contained young Frazer's alleged signature in proof of the claim. Frazer was a student in the technological school at Atlanta, and, it is learned, has not been there in several days. The kidnapers asserted they were on their way to Kansas City, whence further negotiations would be conducted.

A Commando of Boers Looted a Cattle Farm Seven Miles From the City—People Leaving.

Cape Town, Jan. 9.—It is reported that the Boers have reached Sutherland and are within 20 miles of the village of Piquetburg. KILLED IN A COLLISION.

Eight Men Dead, One Fatally and Two Seriously Injured.

The Entire Crew on the One Locomotive, Except One, Was Killed—Brakeman Thrown Into the River.

Fairmont, W. Va., Jan. 9.—A collision between a freight train and a light engine on the Monongahela division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad brought death to eight men, fatal injuries to one man and slight injuries to two others. The collision occurred on the bridge crossing the mouth of Keene run, which is 25 feet above the backwater of the Monongahela river. Both engines were running at full speed, and the Pittsburgh flyer was nearly due.

The heavy engine went entirely through the light one, and, as the entire crew was in the engine, all were killed except Brakeman Tedrow, who was thrown into the river. He will die.

The Dead—W. R. Bowman, of Fairmont, engineer, killed instantly; W. J. O'Neil, of Siverly, Pa., killed instantly; M. E. Bremen, of McKeesport, Pa., conductor, killed instantly; John Deveny, of Fairmont, fireman, lived 40 minutes; William Parrish, of Keyser, W. Va., brakeman, lived 20 minutes; Joseph B. King, of Monongahela, W. Va., conductor, lived 20 minutes; W. E. Murrill, of Fairmont, fireman, died Tuesday afternoon; unknown hobo, killed instantly.

The Injured—J. F. Tedrow, of Fairmont, brakeman, fatally; C. J. O'Leary, of Keyser, W. Va., slightly; Thomas A. Richardson, of Fairmont, engineer, slightly.

When the first crash came Engineer Richardson, of the heavy engine, pushed his fireman, Murrill, off at the left and he jumped at the right. The collision occurring in the center of the bridge, which is trestlework, with no guard rails at the side, Murrill was thrown to the edge of the river bank, and his engine followed him, crushing him, and he died a few hours later. Richardson was more fortunate and escaped with slight injuries. Brakeman O'Leary was in the caboose and but slightly injured. He immediately set out to stop the flyer, but found all the lanterns were broken.

He ran to Highland, over a mile distant, and succeeded in getting a lantern just as the flyer came in sight, and signaled the engineer. But for his heroic action many of the lives of the three score persons on the flyer would have been lost.

Superintendent A. M. Lane, of the B. & O., will hold a court of inquiry to determine where the blame lies.

TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE.

Four Lives Snuffed Out By Flames and Smoke on East 113th Street, New York.

New York, Jan. 9.—Four lives were lost in a fire which broke out in the cellar of the five-story brick tenement house at 337 East 113th street between 8 and 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

The Mora family lived in a flat on the fifth floor, and their bodies were found by the firemen after the flames had been extinguished. They had been burned and suffocated.

Firemen carried a number of women down a ladder to the street. Many of the Italians living in the building managed to get to the roof and were taken down the ladders. The occupants of the fourth floor, whose names could not be obtained, could not be found, but it is believed they escaped. The damage was only $4,000.

THREE NEW STATES.

Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico May Be Admitted to the Union at This Session.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Gov. Murphy and Delegate Wilson, of Arizona, were heard by the house committee on territories Tuesday in favor of the bill for the admission of Arizona as a state. Delegate Wilson used the figures of the present census and made a strong showing for statehood for the territory. The committee took no action Tuesday, and the general opinion is that no action will be taken this session. But if the bill for the admission of Arizona is reported it will be accompanied by bills for the admission of Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Sympathy For the Filipinos.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—A bill was introduced in the senate Tuesday providing for the punishment of kidnapping by hanging. By a vote of 75 to 47 the house adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with the Filipinos in their struggle for liberty. Several democrats abstained from voting. Representative Prairera, of St. Louis, declared that no man should vote for such a "treasonable" resolution.

Desperate Burglar.

Vienna, Jan. 9.—A burglar named Wanyet, who had robbed a tenement on the Wilandstrasse, shot a woman dead whom he met as he was leaving. Pursued by the crowd, he shot five others dead, and he was not arrested until his revolver had been emptied.

Wholesale Vaccination.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 9.—The crusade of vaccination was carried on vigorously Tuesday. Doctors vaccinated people by the dozen. A few new cases of smallpox were reported Tuesday.

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

Second Session.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senate—For five hours the senate discussed the army reorganization bill. The debate took a wide range, at this, but was confined principally to the question of the necessity for the increase in the regular army provided for in the pending measure. Mr. Hoar advanced a proposition to create a commission to be composed of all shades of political opinion, to investigate the entire Philippine question.

House—The Olmstead resolution to investigate the abridgement of the suffrage in certain southern states, with a view to reapportionment upon the actual basis of suffrage was referred to the census committee. After the resolution had been thus disposed of the reapportionment bill was taken up and debated by Mr. Hopkins (Ill.) and Mr. Shafer (Col.).

Washington, Jan. 7.—Senate—While the senate was in session for more than three hours Saturday, little in the way of important legislation was accomplished. The senate committee on military affairs Saturday agreed to report favorably the amendment to the army reorganization bill suggested Friday by Senator Proctor, regarding staff positions. The committee decided at the same time to make adverse reports upon all other amendments.

House—No business of importance was transacted Saturday.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Senate—Monday the senate ratified the committee's proposition to eliminate the house provision for the establishment of a veterinary corps in the army reorganization bill. Measures introduced: Joint resolution extending the thanks of congress to Capt. C. E. Clark and the officers and men of the battle ship Oregon "for bringing the battle ship 14,000 miles at forced speed from the Pacific to the Atlantic station, in condition for instant service, and for gallant and meritorious services in aiding in the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Santiago."

House—It was agreed that the final vote on the reapportionment bill will be taken Tuesday. Mr. Kahn (Cal.) introduced a bill continuing in force for 20 years after May 5, 1902, all laws prohibiting and regulating the coming of Chinese persons and persons of Chinese descent into the United States.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Senate—During the legislative session of Tuesday the senate had under consideration the much mooted canteen question in connection with the army reorganization bill. The senate committee in effect restored the provision for a post exchange, or canteen, which had been stricken out of the bill by the house. For nearly five hours the senate discussed the committee amendment, but a vote upon the proposition is not yet in sight.

House—By a vote of 165 to 102 the house Tuesday accepted the reapportionment plan proposed by the Burleigh bill, which increases the membership of the house during the next decade to 386. Under the bill as passed no state loses a representative and the following make gains: Illinois, New York and Texas, three each; Minnesota, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, two each; and Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin, one each.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Senate—The army canteen is to be abolished, as the senate Wednesday, by a very decisive vote, concurred in the house provision relative to the army canteen. Only 15 votes could be mustered in the senate in favor of the canteen to 34 against it. As the section now stands in the bill it reads as follows: "The sale or dealing in beer, wine or any intoxicating liquors by any person in any post exchange or canteen or army transport, or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States, is hereby prohibited. The secretary of war is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

House—The river and harbor bill was discussed all day Wednesday, but no action was taken.

AFTER TWO FIENDS.

One of the Most Dastardly Deeds in the History of Pleasants County, West Virginia.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Officers are scouring the county of Pleasants, which adjoins this, trying to capture two fiends who attempted the most dastardly deed in the history of Pleasants county Sunday evening. William Higgins and Elisha Smith are their names, and they are charged with malicious and felonious assault, with the intention of committing a criminal assault on the persons of Josie and Julia Johnson, two of the most respectable young ladies of that county. The young ladies were introduced to the men, who asked to accompany them home, which was granted, and they started. When a lonely spot was reached the girls were knocked down and the dastardly attempt made, but they succeeded even at the points of revolvers in driving the men away. Feeling in the vicinity is very high and if caught they will be given the harshest treatment known.

GROCERIES.

A WOMAN PROTHONOTARY.

The Sole Woman Court Official of Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania has opened another door to ambitious, breadwinning women.

Miss Rene Helkes of Carlisle has the distinction of being the first woman in the state to hold the position of head court clerk. She was recently appointed to this position and now holds that office in Cumberland county, Pa.

Her chief is her father, Mr. C. S. Helkes, and through the active interest

MISS RENE HEIKES.

Miss Helkes took in his work she gained a thorough and comprehensive knowledge of what would be required of her to fill the position of deputy prothonotary before she received her appointment to that office. She discharges her duties with an ease and accuracy equal to those of any of her male competitors.

For one year previous to her appointment Miss Helkes was chief clerk in her father's office and discharged practically the same duties that she does in her official position. When she was appointed to succeed Deputy Prothonotary George A. Sullenberger, she accepted the honor gracefully and cheerfully shouldered the responsibilities connected with the charge.

"I am much astonished at the interest which my election to the post of chief court clerk has aroused," Miss Helkes remarked recently.

"I have always been exceedingly interested in the duties connected with court affairs, and when I graduated from the Irving college in 1898 my father took me in this office and gave me a thorough tuition in the taking down and keeping the court records.

"I found the work pleasant and comparatively easy. Each week I gained some new knowledge of the craft, and when my father thought I was competent he taught me how to file the cases, and also instructed me in the various duties which fall to a deputy prothonotary.

"Why shouldn't the women who are obliged to earn their own livelihood take up a professional life? I believe that it is possible for my sex to maintain all the gentle feminine qualities and at the same time stand shoulder to shoulder to men in the workaday world."

Miss Helkes is a truly feminine little woman in the best sense of the term. She has an attractive personality, is a charming and brilliant conversationalist, and withal has an abundance of good common sense, which makes her capable of accomplishing anything she undertakes.

Wm. Jennings Bryan Coming.

Female Thief Surprised.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night, as the family of Mr. Frank Bedford, who lives on Seventh and High streets were preparing to retire, a thief was discovered helping herself to the contents of the ice box. On hearing someone approach she fled, and as she emerged from the side door, John Connell, who happened to be on his way home, noticed her, and becoming suspicious, he yelled at her, and in her hurry to escape she not only dropped Mr. Bedford's plunder but forgot to take her hat. Why should the citizens refrain from using a gun on such people, when that is about the only remedy thus far discovered that will prevent such occurrences.

THERE is a number of cases of grip in this city—generally of a mild form. There seems to be an epidemic of pneumonia among the young children of the city.

No Indictment Returned.

The Federal grand jury, which is in session in Frankfort, Wednesday ignored the charge against Mr. A. S. Thompson, of this county, who was charged with conspiring to intimidate voters. Mr. Thompson's many friends will be glad to hear that he has been exonerated of the trumped-up charge which was made by political enemies. There is no doubt that Mr. Thompson's effective work in the interest of the Democratic ticket was instrumental in rolling up a majority in Bourbon and because of this success he was made an object of revenge by disappointed Republicans. Mr. Thompson will no doubt receive recognition at the hands of his party for the many battles he has fought in its interest, and is favorably mentioned as a candidate for the Legislature.

The horse was brought to this city and died the property of Mr. Spears.

RODMOND COURT.—Norris Bros. report the cattle market steady at their yards. 750 good ones were offered, but not all sold. One bunch of 500-pound, 2-year-old steers, brought the top price 4½ cents; 500 to 700-pound sloppers at 3½ cents; 600 to 700-pound heifers, 3½ cents.

A press report from Frankfort says that Boston capitalists are trying to corner the hemp market. Representatives of Ludlow Bros., of that city, are at present at work at Frankfort and in the hemp growing section of the State, buying hemp wherever it can be obtained. As a result the price has gone up 6½ cents per 112 pounds in the last few days.

BOY WHO LIVES NEXT DOOR

The boy who lives next door
Has freckles on his face;
His ears are red and hang
Away out into space.
And when I hear a dog ki-yi
And see it in the yard,
I can quickly guess the cause—
'Tis merely that one more
Poor little victim knows
A boy resides next door!

He runs across the lawn
I've nursed with jealous care,
And, in the summer time,
Knocks down the flowers there!
It seems to give him pure delight
To yell around with all his might,
And every week or so
Against a light of glass,
For which I have to pay!

He has no teeth in front,
His hands are cracked and brown,
Twice he has nearly burned
Our summer dill pickle down!
He calls to people: "Hey! Watch out!"
And when they jump he whoops about—
I used to think if God
Would take him from below
Up to the sky I'd try
To bravely bear the blow!

The little child whose love
Is all to me, one day
Was stricken suddenly
When I was far away—
The boy who lives next door forgot
To yell around, but ran and brought
The doctor to the bed,
And when I came, at last,
Shrank from me with a look
Of pity as I passed!

The boy who lives next door
Brought in his tops and gun,
And pocketful of trash
To please our little one;
He played beside my darling's bed,
Turned cartwheels and stood on his head,
And God was good to me—
Let's wait awhile before
We utterly condemn
"The boy who lives next door!"
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times-Herald.

Tricked by a Poacher

The Expensive Hare Found by the Game-keeper of Squire Tallyho.

SQUIRE TALLYHO was a member of parliament many years ago for an Irish borough, his residence at the time being an old, dilapidated castle not a great distance from the town of Ballinasloe; it was a rambling sort of structure without any architectural pretensions.

For nearly 40 years Squire Tallyho was regarded by high and low, rich and poor, as an open-hearted, hospitable man of the good old school. The lord on horseback or the beggar in his rags received alike a cordial welcome under the roof of Tallyho castle.

At length, through mismanagement, extravagance and the reality of a dishonest steward, bankruptcy stared the squire and his family in the face. The squire himself was literally a prisoner in his own castle.

At that period the innumerable stratagems and schemes resorted to by many a bankrupt gentleman to escape the clutches of the law were often strange, not to say highly amusing. In fact, a certain member for a southern county was said to be obliged to return home in a coffin during every dissolution of parliament; members of parliament enjoyed the privilege of freedom from arrest in cases of debt, and at every dissolution that privilege ceased, that is, until their reelection.

Squire Tallyho was a prisoner in his own house, and the pestilential presence of a bailiff was more dreaded by him than a plague.

The gates were chained, the windows barred; indeed, it was as much as any seven bailiffs' lives were worth to approach within gunshot of Tallyho castle.

The squire never ventured beyond his own domain except on the back of a fleet horse. On such occasions he was accompanied by a pretty strong bodyguard, especially when attending the neighboring races or participating in a fox hunt, and very often there was from one to half a dozen bailiffs after him.

To attempt serving him with a writ, much less the fearful hazard of arrest, was what none of them—aware as they were of the hatred that animated the people against all law proceedings—would any more think of doing than he would deliberately put his head in a lion's mouth.

In a roadside shebeen about half a mile from Tallyho castle two men, apparently farmers well to do, dressed in comfortable frieze, were seated at a table drinking Dublin stout from pew mugs. One was known as Jerry Hogan, a celebrated bailiff, who, in his official capacity, assumed various disguises to assist him in the serving of "writs." His companion was Ned Garrahy, a cattle dealer.

"I tell you, Ned," said Hogan, "I'll serve it on Tallyho before the sun goes to bed in the west."

"Take care 'tisn't the last you'll be able to serve," said Ned.

"As sure as I'm howldin' this pint mug in my hand, I'll do it," cried Hogan, with vehemence.

"Don't you know, Jerry, that Squire Tallyho has people around him that loves the ground he walks on, and every mother's son o' them as cute as foxes on the scent of a bailiff."

"Maybe, Ned, you'd sooner I wouldn't serve it—isn't that the truth?"

"It is, Jerry. Squire Tallyho is the best-loved landlord in Ireland by poor and rich. Sure it was his big, kind heart that got him steeped to the lips in debt and difficulties; what with eating of cattle and mortgages and oze trouble with another, it is heart-breakin' entirely. He was never known to disturb a tenant like others, if they hadn't the rent to the minute. Did you ever hear of an eviction on his estate? But it's the law in this unhappy country to persecute the good, while the guilty go scot free."

"What you say, Ned, may all be true enough. I must admit that Squire Tallyho let the money fly while it lasted. He enjoyed the fun, and, of course, he had to pay the piper. But let him be good or bad, I must do my jooty; everyone to their calling; mine is not the choicest, but the serving of this writ means $50 to me, and that's not to be picked up every day."

"If it was a thousand dollars, interrupted the cattle dealer, 'no one with a drop o' manly blood in his veins would undertake such a contemptible piece o' work."

"Who! Ned, you're too scrupulous for a man o' the world, but I'm losin' time, an' time is money. I've opened my mind too much about my private business; I'll keep as close as wax hereafter. What's the matter? Landlord, fill two more pints, an' then I'll be off in a pig's whisper to circumvent Squire Tallyho!"

On the same day the squire's gamekeeper detected a countryman dressed in tattered frieze, without shoe or stocking, with a plump young hare under his arm and a dangerous-looking cudgel in his hand. He had evidently been poaching on the Tallyho estate. The moment he saw the gamekeeper he hastily threw the hare and cudgel aside and took to his heels.

The gamekeeper, however, who was a young, active fellow, pursued him at an extremely rapid pace, overtook him and made a prisoner of him.

"Come, my bowld poacher," said he, "you must take your plunder along with ye. I'll tache you to kill hares on my master's property." He then led his prisoner to the spot where the hare and cudgel lay.

"O, sir," beseeched the poacher, "for the love o' goodness, if you have a mother o' your own, have compassion on me."

"Your whining won't do with me. You're aware that Squire Tallyho is a magistrate, so trot along, for you must appear before him."

"O, don't take me, kind sir; if ye do it may be a death blow to my poor mother."

"What's your name?" asked the gamekeeper.

"Barney McGurk, a cousin by the mother's side to Jimmy Kehoe, the thatcher."

"Why did you kill the hare?"

"For the poor sick mother, kind gentleman."

"Whose mother?"

"My own good mother, who is lying at home in the cabin, given up by all the doctors; I was told there was 'nly one hope o' savin' her, an' that was to give her a bowl o' hare soup. I'm a poor boy. I had no money—and—"

"An' you thought you'd stale a hare from the Tallyho domain. I've met the likes o' you before, my fine slevven. Pick up that hare and cudgel. Now come with me to the squire. There's van comfort, anyhow; you'll soon be locked in the stone jug."

In the course of about a quarter of an hour they arrived at the castle, the prisoner crying at the top of his lungs as he descended the hall steps in the firm grip of his captor. A knock of confidence and business, accompanied by a hasty ring at the bell, gave indication that the squire was wanted to attend something earnest and pressing in his magisterial capacity.

The squire was in the front parlor, and, hearing the gamekeeper's voice, knew there could be no danger. He accordingly threw up the window, looked out and asked:

"What is the matter?"

"A poacher, sir."

"Is that all?" said Tallyho.

Now, the parlor windows of the castle were not more than four feet from the ground, but for the purpose of watching both person and property they had been powerfully secured by removable iron bars, which were laid aside every day.

"Did you catch him in the act?" asked the squire.

"I did, sir; here is the hare; and this frightful lookin' cudgel, stained with the animal's innocent blood, is the prisoner's property."

In the meantime the unfortunate poacher was howling with the most outrageous grief and throwing himself on his knees, with uplifted hands, in an attitude of the most abject despair, toward Squire Tallyho, while the gamekeeper pointed to the hare and cudgel as indisputable testimony against the prisoner.

"You scoundrel," said the squire, assuming an air of gravity, "are you not ashamed to look me in the face?"

"Ah, yer honor, I ought to blush like a piece o' scarlet when I look upon yer handsome face, the face of a gentleman, a scholar, the face of a man that was wanst a member of parliament, but 'tisn't in your face alone where the beauty is. You've a generous heart, a heart as big as the Rock o' Cashel, and, as for your hand, it bates Bannagher. There isn't such a hand in Ireland—a hand always ready to give, always reached out to the distressed, always givin' something away, but by all accounts the same hand gets very little in return. No matter, it's a good open hand, however, and I see it's open now," he added, starting to his feet and clapping a "writ" into it.

"Just take that, sir; it's a true copy, and here is the original. Now, you're served, sir."

He had no sooner uttered these words than he whipped up the hare and bludgeon, and with one blow of the latter turned the unsuspecting gamekeeper upon the steps, exclaiming as he did it:

"This hare was never reared on the Tallyho estate. I brought it with me as a tramp to win my game."

"Thunder and lightning!" exclaimed the squire, "it is Hogan, the bailiff."

"The same, at your service," answered that functionary. "The best man within the four says for serving a writ."

After which he bounded away like a deer, dropping from the wall near the lodge, which was banked up inside nearly to the top; he mounted a horse and was soon beyond the reach of pursuit.—N. Y. Daily News.

Trick of the Trade.

"I—I think I would like to look at a diamond ring," said the young man as the jeweler came forward to him.

"Exactly, sir. A diamond ring for a lady?"

"Yes, a young lady?"

"Yes, a young lady to whom you are engaged?"

"What's the difference whether I'm engaged to her or not?" asked the customer, with considerable tartness.

"A great deal, sir. You intend this ring for a Christmas present, probably?"

"I probably do."

"Very well. We have diamond rings for $25 and diamond rings for $50, $75 and $100. If not actually engaged to the girl, take a $25 ring, and when she brings it in here to find out the cost we'll be $50 worth for your benefit. If really engaged, take a higher price, and you can pawn it for two-thirds of its value after marriage. Now, then, make your selection."—Washington Post.

Where Physicians Failed.

When I. W. Kesler was a general news agent at 524 Front Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, he wrote: "Palmer's Lotion has cured a very distressing and unsightly eruption on my face of over two years' standing, after the best physicians I could find failed in affording me any relief. The first application removed much of the soreness and pain, and very soon a complete cure was effected." In all such cases Palmer's Lotion Soap should be used in preference to any other. If your druggist does not have them, write to Solon Palmer, 374 Pearl Street, New York, for samples of Palmer's Lotion and Lotion Soap.

Grade Doses by Rank.

One Marshal Le Febvre fell ill of an ague, and his servant, an old soldier, caught the malarial fever at the same time. The servant was quickly cured, but the fever clung to the marshal until it occurred to his energetic duchess that the doctor had blundered by giving the marshal the same doses as to a private soldier. She rapidly counted upon her fingers the different ranks of the military ladder. "Here, drink this; this is suited to your grade," she said, putting a tumbler to her husband's lips. And the duke, having swallowed a dozen doses at one gulp, was soon on his legs again. "You've a great deal to learn, my boy," was the lady's subsequent remark to the astonished doctor.—Chicago Chronicle.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous, nervous trouble. Those hot flashes are just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It builds up the weakened nervous system, and enables a woman to pass that grand change triumphantly.

"I was a very sick woman, caused by Change of Life. I suffered with hot flashes, and fainting spells. I was afraid to go on the street, my head and back troubled me so. I was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JENNIE NOBLE, 5010 Keyser St., Germantown, Pa.

WITHOUT THE FRILLS.

Report of a Church Wedding by an Editor Who Discourteously Frispy.

An editor who was thoroughly tired of the foolishness that goes on at a church wedding finally got even as follows, says the Atchison Globe man: "They were married in great style. All the elite of the town were invited, principally because it was thought that they would be more likely to bring elegant presents for the bride."

"Of course, the ceremony took place in the church, and the church was most beautifully decorated for the occasion. Potted plants were borrowed here and there, wherever they could be secured without making the owner mad enough to fight."

"The bride's young lady friends had the decorations in charge, and when they were making nosebags they were chewing the rag about the trouble and work, and wishing that the bride had sense enough to get up her own wedding. The ushers wore claw-hammer coats, parted their hair in the middle and stepped high when they walked down the aisle. The coats were hired from a costumer, and their white gloves came from an undertaker, who kept them on hand for funeral occasions."

"It was a ring ceremony. The ring was a monstrous gold band borrowed of the village jeweler. People called the bride lovely, but she was so homely that hollyhocks wouldn't grow in the dooryard where she lived. The bridegroom was dressed in conventional black, so called because his father once wore the coat to a democratic convention. The presents were simply elegant. They came from people who couldn't afford to hire the washing done or buy baker's bread. Then after a 'sumptuous wedding supper' the bride and groom went to St. Louis on their wedding tour, where they spent more money in 24 hours than both of them can earn in a month."

WHEELER WAS TOO POLITE.

Embarrassing Dilemma in Which "Fighting Joe" Latefy Found Himself.

At Washington the other day it was raining hard, and the street cars were crowded with passengers more or less bedraggled. Among them was Gen. Joe Wheeler. Next to him was a woman wearing a mackintosh, who rose to get off at Fourteenth and F streets. Gen. Wheeler noticed an umbrella leaning against the car seat.

He grabbed the umbrella, ran after the woman, caught her at the door and said: "Madam, madam, but you left your umbrella."

The woman looked puzzled, but took the umbrella. Gen. Wheeler resumed his seat. Then a woman on the other side of him gave a little scream and said: "Why, you little man, you gave that woman my umbrella." Then she appealed to the conductor.

Gen. Wheeler apologized, but the woman said: "Now you just get right off the car and get it for me or I'll notify the police."

Meekly the veteran of three wars tumbled off into the rain and ran after the woman with the mackintosh. He made a hurried explanation, got the umbrella and rushed back to the waiting car.

As he handed it back to its owner he said: "I trust you will pardon me, madam. I assure you it was all a mistake."

The woman glared at him. "I don't know about that," she sniffed. "I don't believe you are any better than you ought to be."

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes and other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetters on my hands, which caused them to swell twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetters had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—Mrs. L. B. Jackson, 144 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

The Irish Hedge School.

The educational structure for which, taking advantage of the toleration of government, the hedge schoolmaster abandoned his al fresco establishment, was a very humble one of its kind. The peasantry, animated by the strong Irish love of learning, built it for him, just as in modern days they assemble and build huts for evicted tenants.

It was not a very formidable undertaking. A deep, dry ditch or trench by the roadside was usually selected for the site. At the side of the trench an excavation of the requisite area was dug, so that the clay bank formed three sides of the inclosure. This saved the trouble of building walls. Then the fourth side, or front side wall, with a door and two windows, was built of green sods laid in courses, while similar sods raised the back to the required height and pointed the gable ends.

Young trees and wattles cut from the nearest wood and bound together with straw ropes and withes formed the roof timbers. Over these were spread brambles, then came a layer of "scraws," or slabs of healthy bog surface, and over all a thatching of rushes. The earthen floor was pared to an approach to a level, the rubbish cleared away, and a pathway made to the public road. There was your hedge school-house, ready for business.—Donahoe's Magazine.

It Killed the Bear.

A man who had experience in Alaska was listening to a group of citizens discussing the weather and broke in on the talk thus:

"Pshaw, you fellows don't know what changeable weather is. You think it's always cold in Alaska, do you? Well, just let me tell you a little personal experience of mine. One day I went hunting with a party of miners. The weather was quite warm when we started, and I perspired freely. Suddenly it turned bitterly cold, and large icicles formed on my whiskers (I had grown a full beard). Crossing a small canyon, I came face to face with a big, ugly looking bear. I had nothing but powder in my gun, and the man with the cartridges was away behind me, so as a desperate resort I rammed the icicles from my beard into the gun and blazed away."

"And what happened?" said one of the crowd eagerly.

"Why, I struck him squarely in the head and killed him."

"Killed him? Impossible!" chorused the crowd.

"But it did, I tell you. The temperature suddenly turned warm again, melting the icicles, and the bear died from water on the brain."—Detroit Free Press.

Dangerous Factories.

Not far from the heart of New York city is a factory for the manufacture of deadly poisons in quantities large enough to annihilate the entire population of New York. The factory is so guarded that even its next door neighbors need have no fear of it, but the possibilities stored there excite the imagination. No one may enter it without a special permit. The employees are all skilled men, well aware of the danger of the slightest carelessness. They manufacture, among other things, pure anhydrous acid, which is so dangerous that in its pure state it is not placed in the market. There is instant death in its fumes if they are permitted to escape. Nitric acid is stored in another part of the factory in big glass carboys. The men who work in this factory realize that a broken carboy of nitric acid would mean a disaster, and they treat it with the respect which it deserves. This factory and others like it are guarded more carefully than a safety deposit vault.—New York Sun.

When Bathing Was Rare.

In some old court memoirs of the eighteenth century which have recently been called again to attention it is stated that when George IV. was a baby he was bathed only once a fortnight. That was thought to be plenty often enough in those days for a child to be washed. When one of George's little sisters had measles, the royal mother gave most careful instructions that the child's linen was not to be changed too soon, as she feared that some careless attendant would clothe it in garments insufficiently aired and so "drive in the rash." In those days people were much afraid of clean linen and bathing. It was believed the complete bodily ablutions were weakening, yet prince, peer and peasant alike called in at every ailment the doctors of the period, who bled them into a state of weakness and sometimes death.

And Still She Wept.

Toto was crying. "What's the matter?" asked one of her father's friends. "I've lost my 2 cents!" she wailed. "Well, never mind. Here are 2 cents," said the friend. Soon Toto was crying harder than ever. "What's the matter now?" she was asked. "I'm crying because if I hadn't lost my 2 cents I'd had 4 now!" was her reply.—Detroit Free Press.

Bird Intelligence.

During a high wind one summer day a young oriole was thrown from its nest to the ground. It was picked up by kind hands and kept in the house till the storm was over and then placed on the roof of the piazza. A watch was kept behind the closed blinds of a window near by to note proceedings on the part of the parent birds. They in the meantime had seen the little one borne away and had followed it to the house, and, as it was kept near the open window, its cries had apprised them of its whereabouts. They soon came to it on the roof and hovered about it, doing much talking and consulting together.

Finally they alighted near the little one, and the female slipped her wing under it and seemed to urge some course of action upon the male, who fidgeted about coming to the little one, spreading his wings over it, then flying to a tree, when the female followed him and brought him back and again slipped a wing under the little one.

Finally he seemed to understand or to get his nerve under control, and, slipping his own wing under, together they made a sort of cradle for the birdling, and, each flapping its free wing, they flew to the tree, bearing it to a place of safety among the branches, where it was lost sight of.—Boston Christian Register.

Treatment For Sprains.

The prevalence of sprains and strains owing to the indulgence in athletic exercises of all kinds moves an authority on the treatment of these painful accidents to say:

A little common sense treatment is often all that is needed when the strain is at ankle or wrist and without complications. It will swell very alarmingly at first and gradually develop a frightful looking bruise, but from the first it should have complete rest and a treatment of hot and cold douches, the hot being used at first, when the swelling is painful, and the cold later on, as a sort of tonic to the relaxed muscles. The hot must be very hot and the cold very cold, as the tepid water does harm rather than good.

For the first day of a strain, when all the wrenched cartilages and muscles are aching, great relief is found in a poultice of egg and salt. To make it, beat the white of an egg till light, but not stiff. Stir in gradually a cup and a half of salt, or more if needed, to make a thick, pasty like icing. Spread this on a cloth and bandage in place. Cover all with oil silk or a thick bath towel to protect the sheets, since the egg leaks out continually. After this has relieved the soreness begin with hot water fomentations and wear a light, firm bandage, except at night.

A Fine Distinction.

A young down town drug clerk who had heard the story of the colored woman who had asked for flesh colored court plaster and was given black by the observant dealer stored the incident away in his mental dust box and decided to use it at the first opportunity. He had not long to wait, for a few nights ago a comely colored girl stepped into the store where he was employed. "Ah wants some court plaster," she said.

"What color?" inquired the clerk, with affected nonchalance.

"Flesh cullah, sah."

Trembling in his shoes and keeping within easy reach of a heavy pestle, the clerk handed the woman a box of black court plaster, and he was surprised at the time that the situation afforded so little humor. The woman opened the box with a deliberation that was ominous, but she was unruffled when she noted the color of the contents.

"Ah guess yo' mus' a-misunderstood mah ordah. Ah asked foh flesh cullah, and yo' done give me skin cullah."

The drug clerk is still a little dazed from the encounter, and he has firmly resolved to subject every joke to rigid laboratory test hereafter before using.—Pittsburg News.

His Dim Idea.

A teacher was giving her class an exercise in spelling and defining words. "Thomas," she said to a curly haired little boy, "spell 'hex.'"

"I-b-e-x."

"Correct. Define it." "An 'ibex,' answered Thomas after a prolonged mental struggle, "is where you look in the back part of the book when you want to find anything that's printed in the front part of the book."

Unforgiven.

At a recent banquet in Sydney a descendant of the Macdonalds massacred at Glencoe passed a knife "with the blade foremost" to a member of a famous old family bearing the historic name of the Macdonalds' betrayers. Most of those who looked on stigmatized the action as one of contemptibly bad breeding. But one or two understood the significance and knew that the betrayal is still unforgiven.

Misings by the Seashore. "What a mistake it is," observed the doctor as they walked along the shore, to speak of this as the watery 'wastel' There isn't a drop that is wasted. Without the ocean the continents themselves would soon become uninhabited deserts."

"Therefore," commented the professor, "while it laves the sand it saves the land."—Chicago Tribune.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL
WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.
